American Steel Gets $119,800 Expansion Permit

A building permit was issued to American Steel Foundries to construct a building at a cost of $125,000.

The structure will be an extension to the present melted metals building in connection with the plant's new electric furnace, which is part of its overall expansion program.

The industrial permit was issued on June 14 issued during the week with values totaling $199,200. The permit was issued to American Steel Foundries at a cost of $125,000.

One of the permits was for a $1,000 swimming pool for American Steel Foundries, located at 310 Edgewood drive, who told police that he had a .22 caliber gun tucked in his belt and that he had just discharged at the point of the impact.

The victim is John Ganchett, 40, of 310 Edgewood drive, who told police that he had a .22 caliber gun tucked in his belt and that he had just discharged at the point of the impact.

His victim is John Ganchett, 40, of 310 Edgewood drive, who told police that he had a .22 caliber gun tucked in his belt and that he had just discharged at the point of the impact.

The police report prepared by the administrative staff for the board relates that "all of us have been aware for a considerable period of time that the 1968-69 year would pose some financial problems for the district, particularly in the educational fund."

It projects a cash flow deficit of $79,174 with expenses in all funds totaling $326,558 and income amounting to $80,384.

Under accrual accounting, the need for capital outlays is not as severe as $169,892. The projections are expenses of $9,236,558 and income of $9,075,565.

The district has special tax anticipation warrants for the past several years but expects to issue some warrants during the year beginning July 1, 1969.

The report says that "without additional sources of revenue and assuming a continuation of the pattern of issuance in 1968-69, the district would reach the limitation of anticipation warrant borrowing power in the 1970-71 fiscal year."

Adjustments in present figures are expected because some are based on estimates, for which the precise amounts were unknown. The new projections figure shows that the district will have to issue some warrants during the year beginning July 1, 1969.

The probable special education improvement bond has just been set at $92,000, "for general impact" tax aid for opera-

Federal Projects In Area Approved

(Special from Springfield)

Federal projects totaling $165,000 for 1969 in this area are included in the President's Program of Work. Funds for flood control and navigation, it was announced Friday by Cong. Melvin Price at Washington.

The projects will be $115,000 for maintenance and renovation work along the 8.4-mile Chain of Rocks canal and the locks and $45,000 for planning and design work at the Portage Canal (Cahokia) conversion project new Lewis & Clark State Park.

A 19-mile, $950,000 project for navigation work along the Mississippi River from the Ohio River to St. Louis, will include work along the river in the vicinity of the low water mark.

The biggest project will be the Kaskaskia navigational project in St. Clair county, with $11,685,000 appropriated for construction.

MORE ABOUT School Tax

tion and maintenance costs has been pegged at $700,000.

Bigger Staffs, Salaries

Factors in the spending spiral include enrollment growth, inflation, staff expansion, legislation, operation of Grade School, school annual salary, wage and wage boards and fringe benefit improvements.

The report notes, "While the increase is considerable, there is still some reasonable possibility of a sizeable decrease in proposed expenditures without resultant decrease in the products or quality of the program."

"In view of our position, our only source for obtaining funds to offset a deficit is anticipation warrant borrowing."

There were very little changes in a state aid formula prior to the next regular session of the legislature.

"Regarding the accrual position, the deficit would be partially overcome by that portion of contingencies which we do not have to obligate in 1968-69.

Investment Earnings Fund

"The investment fund will remain, however, and with obvious increases to come in 1969-70 our cash position will deteriorate very rapidly if some means is not taken to increase its income."

Steps may include establishment of a working cash fund, and an increase in the tax levy of sufficient size that any rise in assessed valuation would produce more funds.

The levy increase is seen as preferable to "our easiest way to determine to what point that anticipation warrant borrowing increases at a pace faster than is reasonably essential."

"In 1967-68, we earned in excess of $40,000 in investment of educational funds—two cents in tax rate that did not have to be paid. As borrowing increases, investment earnings decrease and interest expense becomes an additional tax burden."

MORE ABOUT Father, Son

Louis, and his son, Robert, a seventh grader at Prather junior high school, had not been located this morning.

Others of the Hufsteder family who did not go swimming are Mrs. Norma Rozen, Hufsteder, another son, Elmer, 17, and a daughter, Merine, 19.

MORE ABOUT Youth

A member of the Wood River youth crew told Davis that the Dutten youth was in the water only 15 yards or so from the rescue boat when he suddenly disappeared. The boy said the youth probably hit a "hot spot," an area of swirling or boiling water, and the undertow quickly had submerged the boy.

Flagman Hurt Badly
When Struck by Car
Racing at Speedway

As a tragic start Friday evening at the Tri-City Speedway was the scene of another exciting supermodified racing feature. Laramie, who won the feature race, followed across the finish line by Bill Utz, Gene Hinson, Charles Amat and Roy Hibbard.

The third lap of the semifinal race was underway when flagman Dwayne "Sweede" Gailaret, 42, Peoria, was hit by a car and taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with two broken legs, multiple lacerations and facial bruises.

Track Manager George Welch said, "It happened so fast we didn't realize exactly what happened. Sweede has been in the business for 20 years and has had several narrow escapes, but this is the first time that he has been hit. He stands tall on the track with the cars, and is one of the most colorful flagmen in the business."

The semi-feature was won over and out by Bill Meyers of East Alton, followed by John Meyers of Granite City and Laurence Sollom of St. Charles. Mo.

Most auto races scheduled for Sunday evening were rained out and rescheduled for Sunday, July 7.

Grain Storage Bins To be Sold in Area

Farmers who need additional storage for their small grain crop—and later for soybeans and corn—should get in touch with the local ASCS office today for information about sales of excess CCC bins. Lee Rogers, office manager, Madison county ASCS office, Edwardsville, said today.

Under a program similar to—but smaller than—last year's, Commodity Credit Corporation is trying to get the bin off the market. There is a shortage of on-the-farm grain storage space. Supply and sale of these surplus bins is intended to help farmers gain more bargaining power at the marketplace. Sale of the bins will be by competitive bids through public auction.

A German shepherd dog in the tavern expired from the fumes. The animal was gassed two hours earlier. One partially burned, were found at the scene by firemen and first inspector C. F. LaRue. Deputy state fire marshal Andrew Gasparo jr. is investigating.

Price Seeks to Curb Non-Support Cases

A bill to curb an increasing trend of non-support cases involving delinquent parents abandoning their dependents has been introduced by U.S. Rep. Melvin Price.

Present law allows a husband to jump from state to state effectively, depriving the enforcement of an outstanding support order in the court of another state.

While the state courts struggle with the problem, families often accept some form of public aid. Congressman Price's legislation is aimed at reducing the relief rolls by making it easier to force the delinquent father to meet his family obligations.

The Price bill would extend the jurisdiction of federal courts to allow a dependent to sue the spouse in the federal court where the delinquent spouse resides. It also makes it a federal crime for a person subject to a support order to travel between states with the intention of avoiding a state court support order.

Art Display on Dada, Surrealism at SIU-SW

Dada, Surrealism and Today, an exhibition of drawings, prints and collages reviewing the relation of two early 20th century movements to current art, will be on view July 5-26 at Southern Illinois University Southwestern.

Brought here under the sponsorship of the Illinois Arts Council, the exhibit is being circulated in the U. S. by Canada's Art Museum of Modern Art, New York. All but four of the 75 works shown are from the Museum collection of drawings and prints and exhibit will be held in the Communications building lobby and will be open to the public without charge.

The exhibition ranges from works showing precedents for Dada and surrealism to an international selection of drawings, prints and works in new materials illustrating the influence of those movements to day.

Dada professed anarchy and the negation of existing cultural and artistic conventions. He developed internationally during world war I and expressed revolt through performances, exhibitions and manifold publications. The international Dada came from anti-art imagery and techniques; chance arrangement of elements, juxtaposition of seemingly unrelated images; photomontage, composition from scraps of rubbish and satire.

Illinois Power Tip For Gas Furnace Owners

Illinois Power Co. today urged gas heat customers to leave their furnace pilots on during the summer to prevent the furnace from freezing. "Heating contractors say a common cause of furnace replacement is rust," said C. E. Mathias, service area manager for the utility. "Extremely hot and cold, and dry summer periods can cause condensation and moisture in furnaces, leading to rust and corrosion, he said."

"The pilot keeps the air dry and helps eliminate rusting problems," Mathias said. "The cost of operating the pilot is so low it's cheap insurance." Mathias recommended that gas heat users have their furnaces and chimneys examined by a heating contractor to insure safe and economical operation when the heating season begins.

Flag Day and U. S. Army Anniversary Observed

Observance of Flag Day and the 133rd anniversary of the U. S. Army were marked Friday at a luncheon for representatives of the building and construction trade unions in the Granite City Army Depot Officers Open Mess.

The event was hosted by Col. Charles E. Hodder III, Depot commander, and members of the military staff.

Welcoming the union representatives, Col. Hodder said: "Your presence here today is but one measure in relating the movement of the nation's unions to the support of democracy and Americanism. Flag Day is uniquely American in that it calls upon Americans to proudly display the Stars and Stripes and recall the freedom, opportunity and heritage for which it stands."

"It is perhaps, a sad comment on the times to see the lack of interest and participation of far too many Americans in our country's observances. Many have become so sophisticated or are so busy they can't be bothered with a holiday as 'old-fashioned' as Flag Day. In other words, we are failing to consider it to be outdated and people are self-conscious when it comes to showing respect for the Flag or the Nation," Col. Hodder said.

Fighting Men Dedicated
"Our men fighting in Vietnam are obvious in their dedication and their beliefs. The rest of us must make that

'extra effort' to demonstrate our belief in and support of the Nation and principles that we, as members of the Armed Forces, have strived to defend with our lives if necessary."

"We can help inspire those 'busy' or 'sophisticated' Americans in our communities to join us in observing Flag Day, which stands for so much and for which so many brave men have given their lives. We can help to make honoring the flag more meaningful than just desecrating it. It is a small thing that each of us can do, but it can mean a great deal."

"We can help insure that our ideals and rights must be defended again and again, and vigilantly protected by free men if they are to be preserved for future generations. As other nations are aroused by sympathetic concern for the cause of our forefathers' cause in their struggle against tyranny nearly two centuries ago, so Americans today stand beside those countries and hope, whether in South Vietnam or Korea, who cherish freedom."

Patriotic Power
Col. Hodder commented, "There are burdens which must be borne if freedom is to be defended. These burdens are willingly borne today before—and they will not flinch from the task now. This is the patriotic power that has brought us victory in the past and the patriotic power that will bring us victory in the future. Our eloquence and beauty expressed in our fighting man's Code of Conduct—in words of love of God and country, of honor, of high integrity and belief in our way of life. Patriotism, which is synonymous with Americanism, will triumph in the crisis we face today."

Other speakers included Edward Espey, deputy grand knight; Jack Tritschuh, recording secretary; Charles Parkinson, attorney; Edward Lenzi Jr., warden; William J. Kornett, assistant chancellor; Marion Mink, inside guard; Dr. Lee Roman, advocate.

Albert Sanders, three-year trustee; Sanders, delegate to the state convention; Robert McCormick, alternate delegate to the grand knight; and Ed Lenzi Jr., alternate to the delegate.

During the meeting the council voted to contribute 20 cents per member to help finance the Catholic Information booth

Referendum Planned on Quad-City Unification (Rock Island-Moline)

(University of Illinois Student Reporting Project)

Southwest of Cook county, on the intangibles which will result from unification.

"This merger will encourage further efforts of unity to serve our community," Isley continued.

"There is no comparison of what the vast community potential would be in contrast to the separate entities of the cities separately."

We must think of urban growth rather than maintaining the status quo." Isley said. "The merger was chosen by the major forces for Rock Island City Manager Raymond Borch. "There are too many overlapping units in the three cities. This causes waste in administration and expense for each city. Also, the efficiency of management is not good."

"Perhaps the merger wouldn't be great for the local governments," Borch continued. "But it would provide for a more efficient government. It may not mean a substantial decrease in cost, but it would help considerably in modernizing the government."

Negative reactions to the merger were largely financial. East Moline Mayor John Smit said the residents of his city resented the report's inference that services in East Moline were below the level of the other two cities. Residents also opposed the increase in taxes which would be required of them.

Some Costs Must Rise

Rock Island Mayor James Dirksen and Director Walter G. Clark, two-term state attorney general, Presidential contenders seem likely to be Vice-President Humphrey (D), former Vice-President Richard Nixon (R) and a third-party candidate, former Governor George Wallace. Democratic presidential nomination has said he will not form a fourth party but there are many who still believe events may lead to this result.

Polls that showed Humphrey would lose in the fall now indicate him winning, but further fluctuations are inevitable as he and others maneuver for financial support on campaign and other matters.

The start of race talks probably has helped his chances, but if they drag on for months without visible progress there could be a change in voters' attitude. Another factor is the clear evidence in the primaries that most citizens believe the nation is going downhill; that is why it is "time for a change" in governmental leadership.

Elect of Delegate Dick H. Mudge Jr., an avowed McCarthy supporter, provided one of the most unexpected sidelights of the local primary. With the Daley organization in Chicago apparently favoring Humphrey, it is interesting to note that the fields group in East St. Louis made a surprise last-minute switch and defeated Dr. John E. Lee, Venice mayor running for delegate and thought to be a Humphrey backer.

There could be repercussions affecting future cooperation between the East St. Louis and Venice delegations. Democratic presidential nomination has said he will not form a fourth party but there are many who still believe events may lead to this result.

Borough System Proposed

The report calls for consolidation of Rock Island, Moline and East Moline, making each one a borough of the united city. A city council composed of 20 members, two from each of 10 wards, would govern.

The districts would overlap, however, and would overlap beyond boundaries. No borough would have a majority of the councilmen.

The mayor for the united city would be elected at large. The city council would appoint a city manager.

School districts, Black Hawk College, the Metropolitan Center, the post office and the East Moline Hospital District would not be affected. The unification would involve only the merger of city government operations.

Reaction to the plan has been favorable. Reaction seems to center around eliminating overlapping and inefficient administration.

Charles Isley, president of the Moline Chamber of Commerce, said, "Saving money is not as important as the primary declining factor you can find against unification but, instead, it should be the future of the area to its citizens."

"We cannot put a price tag

50 YEARS AGO

JUNE 17, 1918

The hot weather Sunday afternoon, reaching 100 degrees, did not prevent Judge Charles Howell of this Granite City police court from having an auto outing. He has acquired one of the gasoline-devouring buggies, a Dodge car, and he hasn't yet become acquainted with the "dodges" a car can encounter and still stay in the running. While he was taking neighbors for a drive, one of the rear tires went "bang" in Madison and it took two hours to repair it.

Madison county is the winner of the state honor flag for the best record in the Third Liberty Loan campaign. The county has 30,687 subscribers who pledged $3,879,400, or 45% of the quota. The goal was based on 75% of the bank deposits.

25 YEARS AGO

JUNE 17, 1943

Mrs. A. J. Shannon was hostess to the NIQ pinocchio club. Medeans Alex Reber, David Batterton and A. T. Belt held high scores and received prizes. Mrs. Charles Thurber will be the next hostess.

Carl Graham, camping and activities chairman of the Cahokia Mount Boy Scout Council, has announced plans for the summer camping season. Swimming will be at the Madison County County club lake, and boating and canoeing at McDonald Lake near Camp Graham.

Foreign Policy May Be the Chief Issue in Fall Illinois Election

With the first June primary election in Illinois now history, attention will focus on a number of interesting and potentially close contests in the November general election.

Foreign policy, a relatively minor issue in Illinois campaigning this spring, is certain to get a brighter spotlight due to the presidential and U.S. Senate elections.

This issue may prove to be the most significant in the fall balloting due to its importance and due to the tendency for candidates at the top of the ticket to carry other aspirants into office on their "coattails."

The senatorial race will be between Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Republican, and Senator Wright G. Clark, two-term state attorney general. Presidential contenders seem likely to be Vice-President Humphrey (D), former Vice-President Richard Nixon (R) and a third-party candidate, former Governor George Wallace. Democratic presidential nomination has said he will not form a fourth party but there are many who still believe events may lead to this result.

Polls that showed Humphrey would lose in the fall now indicate him winning, but further fluctuations are inevitable as he and others maneuver for financial support on campaign and other matters.

The start of race talks probably has helped his chances, but if they drag on for months without visible progress there could be a change in voters' attitude. Another factor is the clear evidence in the primaries that most citizens believe the nation is going downhill; that is why it is "time for a change" in governmental leadership.

Elect of Delegate Dick H. Mudge Jr., an avowed McCarthy supporter, provided one of the most unexpected sidelights of the local primary. With the Daley organization in Chicago apparently favoring Humphrey, it is interesting to note that the fields group in East St. Louis made a surprise last-minute switch and defeated Dr. John E. Lee, Venice mayor running for delegate and thought to be a Humphrey backer.

There could be repercussions affecting future cooperation between the East St. Louis and Venice delegations. Democratic presidential nomination has said he will not form a fourth party but there are many who still believe events may lead to this result.

One Individual Can Have Favorable Impact On the Lives of Thousands

The career of Miss Hetty Pick, who died unexpectedly last week, serves as an example of the fact that one person can have on the lives of others.

It was not only that she taught and counseled thousands of youths, but that she was able to instill in her students an appreciation for excellence, coupled with a zest to attain it. She not only taught English language and literature, but was able to impart part of her skills in the classroom.

No doubt many other instructors sought and achieved similar quality in their work, but our acquaintances with Miss Pick brings her contributions vividly to mind. They included a teacher who had no knowledge of English language and literature, but was able to impart part of her skills in the classroom.

side and Calvo, Ebersold, Grant, Scroggins and Davis on the Democratic ballot. Leland Kennedy (D), re-elected as a state representative, did not lead here but ran strongly enough in the Quad-Cities to enable him to lead the total House vote.

Competition for various offices did not move into its sharpest focus because so many candidates were unopposed for nominations and did not wage a full-scale effort. They will now speak out and will soon see, as former President Truman puts it, which ones can stand the heat of the political kitchen.

Studies On Rejuvenating Downtown District Meaningful If Ignored

When there is a thorny problem and opinion is divided on how to solve it, government often stalls by creating commissions. Some of these studies eventually develop into new laws, but too often the process is merely a device to postpone action until a better served has cooled off.

Two recent reports now languishing in desk drawers and file cabinets are the Southern Illinois University analysis of downtown needs and the information assembled as part of a possible application for federal renewal funds.

These two documents are the wealth of imagination and approaches to the task of returning to the Quad-Cities much of the business it lost as its population became more mobile. With many new kinds of governmental aid and incentives being developed, there is no question but that the studies' results and plans for action could be realized.

What is lacking is a sufficient priority rating on the agendas of a majority of the elected municipal officials and, in some cases, of private citizens.

The present and future prosperity of this community and its people are involved, but the subject is not high priority as (in the parlance of precinct leaders) a "gut" issue.

The best study in the world is pointless if nothing is done about its recommendations. A question that could well be asked is whether the SIU and renewal studies were just right to tell citizens into marking time, or whether there is a sincere desire to find — and carry out — a solution.

The time for action is limited because to fail to go forward is to go backward.

Illinois in 1818 Had 2 Newspapers

(From the Files of the Granite City Press-Record)

When Illinois was admitted to the Union in 1818, there were two newspapers in the state.

The oldest of these was the "Illinois Herald," issued in Kaskaskia in 1814 by Matthew Duncan. In 1816, the paper was sold to David and John & Co., and the name was changed to the "Western Intelligencer."

The "Illinois Emigrant," the other paper in the state at the time, was published at Shawneetown by Eddy & King.

Both papers were dependent for subsistence on the printing given to them by the United States government under an act which provided that all laws passed by Congress must be published in two of the public newspapers within every territory of the United States.

The weekly issues of both these papers consisted of four pages four columns each.

News were more than two columns devoted to local news and editorial comment.

Often, a full page or more was required for printing of national or territorial laws, and further space was occupied by official notices and proclamations.

As a rule, about one-fourth of each issue would be occupied by advertisements of various sorts.

Local merchants called attention to their wares in notices which were given over to lengthy memorials. Advertisements of this nature were usually the most numerous in the paper.

During political campaigns, much space was given over to lengthy editorials. Often these editorials were written by the editor himself.

In the little daily news, there was little room for editorials.

Now, news from everywhere is gathered and quickly relayed to the readers of Illinois newspapers.

This was the beginning of the Illinois press, which grew to the point that, by 1918, it comprised nearly 200 publications of various sorts.

Mental Health Board Honors Edwin Reiske

An award for Edwin Reiske, retiring president, and a talk on the field of psychiatry by Dr. Robert Hicks were among the highlights of the third annual meeting of the Quad-Cities Center, Madison County Mental Health Society.

The dinner, held in the rathskeller of the Elks Lodge Thursday, was attended by 50 persons, with Harold V. Thomas, president of the local mental health center board, presiding. Thomas made the presentation to Reiske of an engraved silver plaque.

Dr. Hicks, St. Louis psychiatrist and medical director for the Mental Health Center, said a different approach to mental diseases is being carried out in the United States — a more structured approach with greater emphasis on medicine.

He pointed out that of the mental illnesses, some are born and some are the products of environmental Alcohols is an abnormality.

Most Dramatic Treatment

The most dramatic treatment, he noted is for hyperactive children with delayed development of control systems. With proper medication, the change can be made almost immediately.

Discussing mild or borderline brain damage noted in slow learners, Dr. Hicks said early testing can determine the location of brain damage and what special training a child can be taught to pick up skills.

The doctor said the world's No. 1 public health problem is not drugs or alcoholism, but is mental retardation which increases the necessity to limit and regiment activities. It's like a teacher's need to police a class of 50 pupils, while with 20 she can give individual attention to each child's ability or lack thereof.

He added that no known solution is available to the overpopulation problem.

In closing, Dr. Hicks praised the work of the staff of the local Mental Health Center and for the support given by the board of directors in expanding the center's facilities and a dscope.

Annual Report

The annual report for the local Mental Health Center was given by Jerry L. Staten, executive director.

The staff includes D. L. Mathews, psychologist; Dr. Kenneth Castelli, psychiatrist; Dr. Hicks, psychiatrist; C. E. Anderson and William Sparrow, social workers; Miss Mary Bell Fisher, psychiatric social worker; Mrs. Harold Metzger, office manager; Mrs. Mary Pulford, secretaries; Dr. Castelli and Dr. Hicks are now full-time employees.

The center at 3024 State street handled 536 patients with 3325 interviews in the past fiscal year, compared to 474 with 2264 interviews in the 1966-67 fiscal year.

He said the report stated the center is providing consultative services to the Madison, Granite City, Highland and Collinsville school districts as well as the Office of Economic Opportunity and the Granite City police department.

Chas. W. Vance, 58,
Dies of Heart Ailment

Charles Weldon Vance, 58, of 3149 Willow avenue, died at 1 p.m. Saturday in Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, where he had been a patient about one month. Mr. Vance, a welder at General Steel Industries for 26 years, had been ill with a heart ailment for several months.

Mr. Vance, who was born in Paducah, Ky., lived in Madison 38 years before moving to Granite City 22 years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Eileen; three sons, Charles Jr. of Long Beach, Calif., and Richard and David; a daughter, Linda of Granite City; a daughter, Mrs. Harold (Mills) Lassen of Granite City; a brother, Newton Vance of El Paso, Tex., and six grandchildren. A brother, David, died in infancy.

"We have closely aligned our selves with St. Elizabeth Hospital in consultative services participation, with planning for a comprehensive mental health program being the ultimate goal," he said. "Even though St. Elizabeth's does not have its own psychiatric beds, they are becoming more acutely aware that they do in fact treat psychiatric patients and have been using this clinic for consultative services."

Staten recently was involved in a training program for the hospital staff, including nurses and aides, in a course designed to train hospital personnel to recognize signs and symptoms of emotional problems.

As soon as psychiatric services are more available at the clinic, the psychiatrist also will be a consultant to the general practitioners at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Marvin Van Meter of the YMCA staff gave the invocation and benediction.

Program in Making

"There have been many meetings of community and lay people, hospital staff and administrators, as well as clinical staff and administrators, trying to work out a program in which psychiatric beds will be provided in the hospital for short-term treatment of emotionally disturbed people.

"There has been no uniform resistance to this movement, but further community education and involvement will be needed before this plan can be completely implemented."

At the opening of the meeting, Thomas introduced special guest speakers, including A. MacMillian, director of the Coordinated Youth Services; Joseph Nemeth, police department detective; Mrs. Anna Kolesar of Family Guidance Agency; Howard Colquitt of the Chamber of Commerce and John Dreves of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

5 Seek $15,000 Over Boat Accident on Lake

A suit seeking $15,000 each for five persons will be filed last week in Madison county circuit court against Granite City Steel Co. and Horseshoe Lake Rod & Gun Club and Virgil Layton, club operator, as the result of a boat accident on the lake on June 12, 1966.

Plaintiffs are Jessie Norman, Genna Norman, Patricia Sonnen, Shirley Sonnen and Robert Sonnen Jr., all of Madison.

The complainant states that the five were injured when a boat in which they were riding owned by the rod and gun club and operated by Robert Sonnen sr. struck the dike of the Granite City Steel reservoir in the lake.

The suit alleges that the company and the club were negligent in failing to warn of dangerous approaches to the dike and to docking facilities in the area.
